Apehangers Motorcycle Club

The Apehanger's are making a big difference for the Riverdale~Pick City Ambulance Service. You will hear the rumble when this squad shows up to help.

written by: Brianne Skachenko

I would like to recognize James Sailer and the Apehangers Motorcycle Club.

James Sailer is a CPR driver with the Riverdale-Pick City Ambulance Service and has been for several years. James is always willing to go above and beyond to help our service in anyway he can. James also belongs to the Apehangers Motorcycle Club. During one recent fundraising event, we had a limited number of crew members who could cover the fundraiser while ensuring 911 call coverage. James made a phone call to his motorcycle club to enlist their help. The Apehangers came out in full force to donate their time with setting up, grilling and serving hotdogs, making snow cones, and cleaning up. The Apehangers did this all from the kindness of their hearts and didn't ask for anything in return. It made my heart fill with gratitude and eyes fill with tears as I heard the roar of motorcycles and watched members of this club drive up one by one to donate their time to help. We would not have been able to do this without their help. The Apehangers have also donated supplies for our fundraisers so there is no out of pockets expenses to the service. James and the Apehangers have been extremely vital to the Riverdale-Ambulance Service and we can't thank them enough for all they do for our service.

HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS!!!

Courtesy of Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Boo!

Hold a flashlight while trick-or-treating to help you see and others see you. Always WALK and don't run from house to house.

Always test make-up in a small area first. Remove it before bedtime to prevent possible skin and eye irritation.

Look both ways before crossing the street. Use established crosswalks wherever possible.

Lower your risk for serious eye injury by not wearing decorative contact lenses.

Only walk on sidewalks whenever possible, or on the far edge of the road facing traffic to stay safe.

Wear well-fitting masks, costumes, and shoes to avoid blocked vision, trips, and falls.

Eat only factory-wrapped treats. Avoid eating homemade treats made by strangers.

Enter homes only if you're with a trusted adult. Only visit well-lit houses. Never accept rides from strangers.

Never walk near lit candles or luminaries. Be sure to wear flame-resistant costumes.

Extension Master Gardener Program accepting applicants through Nov. 15

If you love gardening and are community-minded, apply to become a North Dakota State University Extension Master Gardener. Convenient online training starts in 2024 offering a great learning experience for adults.

The Extension Master Gardener Program is a national volunteer service organization that works in cooperation with land-grant universities. The program trains and empowers volunteers to teach others how to garden, conserve natural resources such as pollinators, beautify communities and be leaders.

NDSU Extension is now accepting applications for the 2024 Extension Master Gardener Program.

Accepted applicants will take a 40-hour volunteer training course designed to provide participants with the knowledge and skills necessary to complete volunteer projects.

The program hosts weekly classes from Jan. 19 to March 22, 2024.

Course topics include vegetable and fruit production, soil health, composting, plant diseases and insects, annual and perennial flowers, tree selection and maintenance, landscape design, houseplants, and lawn maintenance. NDSU faculty and Extension personnel teach the classes.

“The 10-week training is designed to be flexible for both working individuals and for those wintering in other states,” says Esther McGinnis, NDSU Extension horticulturist and Extension Master Gardener director. “Students can participate from their computers in the live Friday classes from 9 a.m. to noon (CST). Alternatively, students can watch the recorded lectures at their convenience. Students in Fargo have the option to be present in the NDSU campus classroom.”

Once participants complete the 40-hour training, they are known as Extension Master Gardener interns. They must volunteer 48 hours of time during a two-year period on horticultural projects in cooperation with NDSU Extension. After that, they will be certified Extension Master Gardener volunteers.

Potential volunteer projects include answering gardening questions, organizing horticultural workshops, teaching children to garden, growing fresh produce for food pantries, designing and maintaining pollinator gardens, and conducting citizen science projects.

The program fee for the 2024 class has been reduced to $225 to make the class more accessible to individuals. A non-volunteer option is available for $450.

Seventeen North Dakota counties will be accepting a limited number of Extension Master Gardener applications. The application deadline is Nov. 15.

Application forms and a list of counties that are accepting applications are available at ndsu.ag/mgcourse. For more information, contact your NDSU Extension county office or McGinnis at esther.mcginnis@ndsu.edu.

TRICK OR TREAT

Did you ever wonder where the idea of Trick-or-Treat comes from? Well, it all started with an old Irish tradition.

The Irish believed that on Halloween night the veil between our world and the spirit world was thin. On that night, ghosts could come back to visit their loved ones.

But they also believed that some ghosts were unhappy and used Halloween to frighten people. The Irish people would put out bowls of milk and fruit on their doorstep. If the spirits were happy with their treats, they would go somewhere else to make their mischief.

Everyone tried to stay inside on Halloween night where it was safe. But anyone who had to go out for some reason would wear a costume and a mask. If the costume was good enough it would confuse the spirits and they wouldn't bother you.

Over time these traditions changed. During the Middle Ages, teenagers and young adults took the place of the spirits. They would dress up and go door to door saying "trick-or-treat." If they were given a treat, they went on to the next house. But if not, they played a trick on that person. These were harmless tricks and no one ever got hurt from them. Still, it was better to just give them a treat.

When the Irish came to America during the Great Potato Famine, they brought the tradition of "trick-or-treat" with them. Soon everyone was joining in and who can blame them? What could be more fun than dressing up and going from house to house getting candy and treats?

HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT I'M FAT, I WAS YOUNG ONCE. I'M OLD I'M WORN OUT....

To all my female friends from 50 years and up. Most of us are ageing through the next phase of our lives. We're at the age where we see wrinkles, grey hair, and extra pounds. We see cute 25-year-olds and reminisce. But we were also 25, just as they will one day be our age. We aren't those "girls in their summer clothes" anymore. What they bring to the table with their youth and zest, we bring our wisdom and experience. We have raised families run households, paid the bills, dealt with diseases, sadness and everything else life has assigned us.

Some of us have lost those that we're nearest and dearest to us. We are survivors. We are warriors in the quiet. We are women, like a fine wine or classic car. Even if our bodies aren't what they once were, they carry our souls, our courage, and our strength. We shall enter this chapter in our lives with humility, grace, and pride over everything we have been through, and we should never feel bad about getting older. It's a privilege that is denied to so many. ~unknown
